

LRS® IT Solutions Technical Services – TSM Recovery

Many Options, One Partner

IT departments are busy; sometimes too busy. During those too-busy times, wouldn't it be nice to have additional resources without the burden of adding full-time employees who you may not need indefinitely? The need for additional, short-term resources can be the result of numerous scenarios: perhaps your IT department needs additional staff for short term projects; maybe your organization has an immediate need to bring a new solution online quickly; what about the times you need assistance with general upkeep of your IT business systems?; or possibly you require extra staff to assist with disaster recovery services in the short term.

LRS® IT Solutions offers distinct technical services to support your IT needs on a limited or, in some cases, ongoing basis. Let us provide your organization with our highly skilled, professional IT services and IBM certified consultants that can enhance your operation and provide you with the resources you need to help with those extra projects and busy periods.

LRS TSM Recovery Services

In the event of a disaster situation can you recover your Tivoli Storage Manager (TSM) server and database? Is your TSM server recovery plan up-to-date? The LRS TSM Recovery Service allows you to positively answer these questions with confidence. This service offers you the opportunity to build and test your plan to restore your TSM server and database. During this 5-day engagement process, you will work with an LRS Certified TSM Consultant to:

- Restore an AIX server to look like your server
- Restore your TSM on the server
- Restore your TSM Database
- Restore a subset of your TSM copy pool data

During each phase of the project, procedures will be documented and reviewed by your staff and LRS. At the end of the engagement you will have a documented plan for recovering your TSM server in the event of a disaster.
